

Official Order By Lord Sir Osis of the Liver

Dear Mr Stu Darabbit,

A battle royale is looming between Rustiarmour and Rottingham. In the unlikely event that our righteous county loses and we need to make a peace offering, it is essential that we have an alternative method to despatch that treacherous snake woman Madge Estee.

I've spoken with my knight Lance Aboil and he said you are the best person for the job of securing a rare toxin that could double as a gift.

This journey will take you far from home and only the healthiest will survive, so I have appointed the following to accompany you.

Please assemble: Dee Sintree, Ray Bees, Anne Fluenza, Mal Aria, and any of the other healthy citizens as your support team.

The voyage will take you to a place recently discovered by the Spaniard Ferdinand Magellan, the Philippines named after King Philip II of Spain. There you will collect oil of the eucalypt from the tree Eucalyptus deglupta.

Your Lord, Sir Osis of the Liver
